

« Sustainable Banking and Insurance »

Program:

Specialization master in financial risk management (evening courses), option “Sustainable and Climate Finance”

Language:

English

Number of hours :

30 hours

Number of students:

Around 30

Objectives of the course :

The goal of this course is to teach students the social and environmental impacts of financial institutions and how to manage them.

More generally, the course content should include:

- General role of financial institutions in sustainable economic development through their financial intermediation and other types of activities
- Operational problems related to the banking and insurance sectors with a holistic perspective on social, environmental, and ethical issues.
- Presentation of the principles for Responsible Banking and Sustainable Insurance.
- Accounting for various types of environmental and social risk in lending and project finance.
- Introduction to sustainable banking products and strategies (responsible investing, social finance, and impact lending).
- Insurance for climate-related disaster risk.
- Role of Central Banks and Financial Supervisory Authorities in governing Sustainable Finance.

Organization :

Hybrid teaching (mix of online and on site sessions) (in the evening on weekdays and/or on Saturdays)

Profile :

The candidate is expected

- to have a relevant professional expertise in the field of the course, such as : responsible banking and sustainable insurance.
- to have demonstrable pedagogical skills oriented toward professionals (such as training or consultancy missions, or previous experience teaching evening classes).

As part of the contract for this course, the lecturer will also have to supervise a number of internships and final work projects relating to his/her area of expertise.

Contract length :

1 year (academic year 2022-2023) (renewable)

Contact person :

Anne CHANTEUX, Director of evening master programs, Head of the Finance, Accountancy and Law Department, anne.chanteux@uliege.be

Application :

Applications (1 or 2 pages CV, letter of motivation, course proposal including the course objectives, outline, methodology and evaluation criteria) are to be submitted by email to Christine Bertrand (christine.bertrand@uliege.be), Coordinator of evening master programs, by May 24, 2022 at the latest.

After reviewing the applications, the selected candidates will be invited to an interview on Wednesday, June 1, 2022 am.