Introduction

HEC Liège, Management School of the University of Liège, aims at providing knowledge for its national and international scientific community, its socio-economic environment as well as its educative community into 7 strategic fields :

In each of this field, we foster a strong focus on digital, Corporate Social Responsibility and innovation.

“HEC Research” is the research unit of HEC Liège. It counts 93 full time equivalent (FTE) active research staff.

The research unit intends to produce, in these seven strategic fields, international quality research, to construct an international reputation and have an economic and societal recognition. The progress on these three strategic outcomes are measured through Key Performance Indicators and benchmarked for each strategic area against national and international research teams. HEC Liège has a brand new ranking of scientific journals. The HEC ranking is intended to reflect the rank of a specific journal within its field; This classification outcomes from the merge of three external journal rankings (ABS, CNRS, and ERIM). Research objectives and incentives at HEC Liège are based on this new classification.

In 2016, the research field “ECONOMIC ANALYSIS AND POLICY” has secured a large part of research income from competitive grants awarded by major national research agencies (17 applied research grants and 39 fundamental research grants).

We observe over the last two years an important shift in our intellectual contributions with an increased focus on international quality peer-reviewed research. Over the last two years, the field “SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT AND BUSINESS ANALYTICS” has published 12 articles in high quality peer-reviewed journals according to the HEC Liège Academic Journal Guide.

With regard to the impact we have on the academic and professional community, the publications produced by our research field “SOCIAL ENTERPRISE AND BUSINESS ETHICS” are widely cited by the academic community and benefit from an international recognition.

The visit in May 2016 of the international scientific committee advising HEC Liège for its research strategy and the EQUIS accreditation has highlighted the progress made by HEC and set up the next milestones in terms of research productivity.

► Supply Chain Management & Business Analytics

Research activities in the fields of supply chain management (SCM) and business analytics (BA) are focused on analyzing data collected from a variety of sources and decision making informed by data analysis and supported by optimization techniques, with the aim of enabling enterprises and organizations to improve their service levels and operational efficiency, in particular in the context of supply chain and logistics management. Research activities in the fields of SCM&BA are mostly based in the research centre QuantOM (Quantitative methods and Operations Management), which is the association of around twenty researchers.

The main areas of expertise of the researchers of the fields SCM&BA are analytical methods of uncovering business insights and predicting future situations with use of data and also of recommending decisions. The following is a selection of scientific articles published in 2016:

Véronique François, Yasemin Arda, Yves Crama, and Gilbert Laporte, Large neighborhood search for multi-trip vehicle routing, European Journal of Operational Research (2016), 255(2), 422-441. The authors consider the multi-trip vehicle routing problem, in which each vehicle can perform several routes during the same working shift to serve a set of customers. Two large neighborhood search heuristics are developed and compared: the first approach combines vehicle routing heuristics with bin packing routines while the second makes use of specific operators designed to tackle the routing and the assignment aspects of the problem simultaneously.

Julien Hambuckers and Cédric Heuchenne, Estimating the out-of-sample predictive ability of trading rules: a robust bootstrap approach, Journal of Forecasting (2016), 35, 347-372. The authors provide a novel way to estimate the out-of-sample predictive ability of a trading rule and show in a simulation study that the proposed technique drastically reduces the mean squared error of the estimated predictive ability. The methodology is illustrated on IBM, MSFT and DJIA stock prices, where 11 trading rule specifications are compared.

Ashwin Ittoo, Le Minh Nguyen, and Antal van den Bosch, Text analytics in industry: Challenges, desiderata and trends, Computers in Industry (2016), (78), 96-107. The authors provide a systematic review of the current state of the art in the application of text analytics in industry and identify the different challenges and constraints that real-world industrial environment imposes on text analytics techniques. A set of desiderata that text analytics techniques should satisfy in order to alleviate these challenges and to ensure their successful deployment in industry are also formulated.

Célia Paquay, Michael Schyns, and Sabine Limbourg, A mixed integer programming formulation for the three-dimensional bin packing problem deriving from an air cargo application, International Transactions in Operational Research (2016), 23(1-2), 187-213.

The authors consider a three-dimensional multiple bin size bin packing problem faced in the field of air transportation when loading boxes into containers. The proposed mixed integer linear program includes an extensive set of constraints encountered in real-world applications: the stability, the fragility of the items, the weight distribution, and the possibility to rotate the boxes.

Fabrice Talla Nobibon, Laurens Cherchye, Yves Crama, Thomas Demuyneck, Bram De Rock, and Frits C.R. Spieksma, Revealed preference tests of collectively rational consumption behavior: formulations and algorithms, Operations Research (2016), 64 (6), 1197-1216. This paper focuses on revealed preference tests of the collective model of household consumption. The authors introduce exact algorithms based on mixed-integer programming formulations of the collective rationality tests, which can be usefully applied to medium sized data sets. Simulated annealing heuristics are proposed to allow for efficient testing of the collective model in the case of large data sets.

Intellectual Contributions 2012-2016

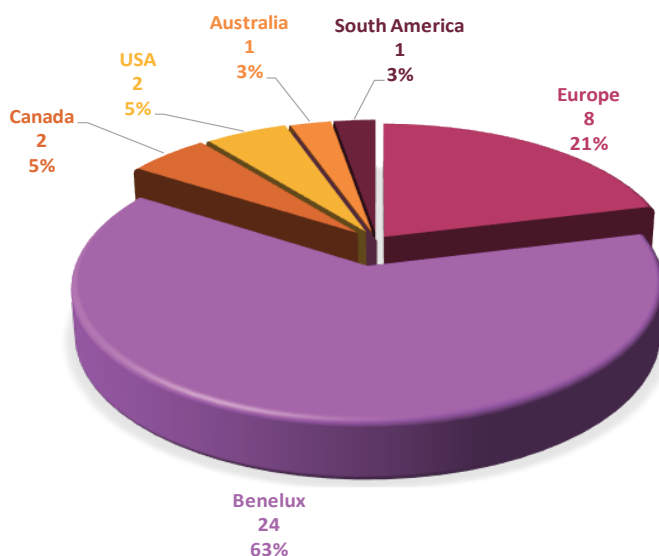

The researchers of the fields SCM&BA are actively participating in research project proposals both at university, national, and international levels. During the last few years, the researchers have taken part in granted projects like BRAIN-TRAINS (BRAIN- TRAnsversal Assessment of Intermodal New Strategies), COMEX (Combinatorial Optimization: Metaheuristics and Exact methods), Multi-State Models (Semiparametric Inference for Multi-State Models), and PRESupply (Predictive Supply Chain).

Granted Research Projects 2012-2016

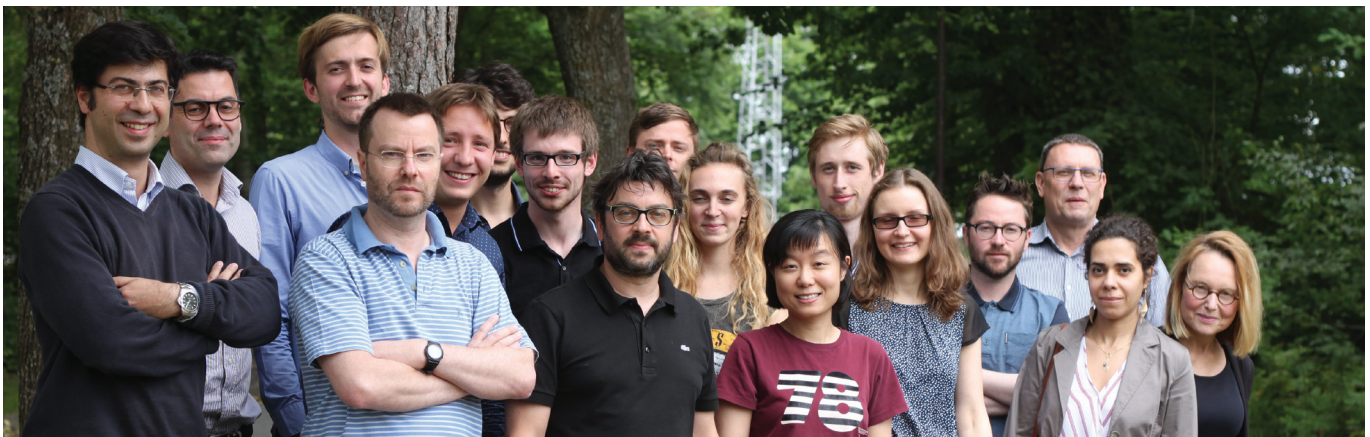

Research Seminars

The research center QuantOM is also active in organizing research seminars and conferences. The international conference MAPSP 2015, 12th Workshop on Models and Algorithms for Planning and Scheduling Problems, was co-organized by HEC Liège, KU Leuven, and Ghent University in La-Roche-en-Ardenne in June 2015 and brought 110 participants together.

► Economic Analysis & Policy

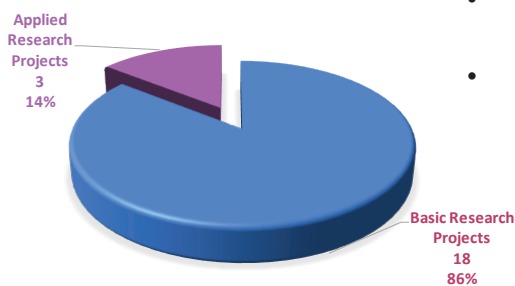

The research domain “Economic Analysis & Policy” focuses on applying different economic approaches to facilitate the decision-making process at the firm and the government level. The researchers contributing to the field, actively promote empirical and applied theoretical analysis to evaluate policy-relevant issues.

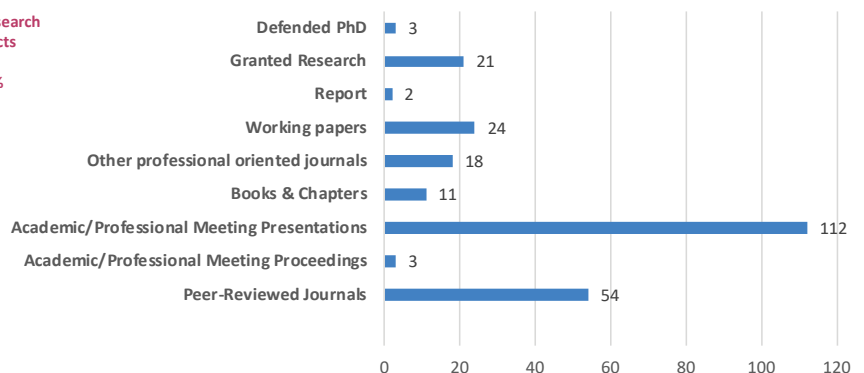

The domain is organized around two research centers :

- The Liège Competition and Innovation Institute (LCII) is a research center created jointly by economic and law faculty members. It aims to study the links between competition and innovation in our society. At the boundary of their respective discipline, researchers seek to improve industrial and competition policies.
- Regional economic development (RED) is a research group focused on analyzing topics of interest from a regional point of view. They develop empirical and theoretical methods to shed new lights on topics with a particular focus on urban, energy and social policies.
 - Competition and innovation (ARC project, funded by ULiège, A. Gautier)
 - Beyond incentive regulation (FNRS, A. Gautier)
 - Energy transition: consumers and networks (Walloon region DGO4, Gautier and Jacqmin).
 - Projets BELSPO (Perelman & Pestieau).

One of the missions of the LCII is to host academic forum to disseminate knowledge and create a debate among academics, practitioners and policy makers. To that end, the LCII organized two events in 2016. The first is an academic workshop linked to a growing research theme: the digital economy. Following the success of the first edition in March 2015 in Liège, the LCII co-organized with the CORE (UCL), the second workshop industrial organization in the digital economy. The second IODE workshop hosted Marc Bourreau from Telecom Paris Tech as a guest speaker and welcomed 15 speakers. The next edition will be organized in Liège in March 2017.

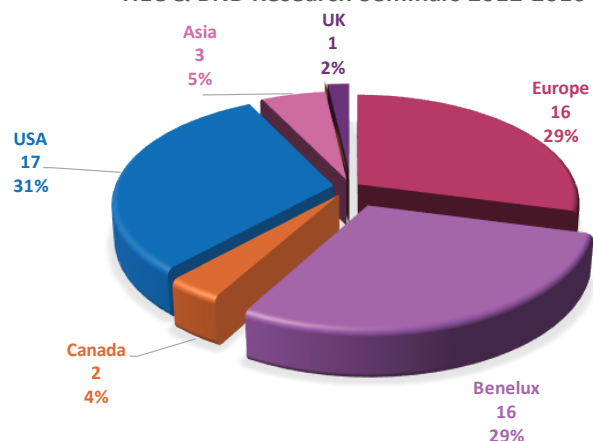

The second is a policy-oriented conference on the patent hold-up. The number of patents and especially standard essential patents has exploded in the digital economy and the pricing of these technologies remains controversial. This conference sought to provide a 360° state of play on patent hold-up in contemporary antitrust and patent policy by bringing together academics from the two sides of the Atlantic, official from the main antitrust agencies (EU DG Comp and US DoJ) and practitioners.

► Social Enterprise & Business Ethics

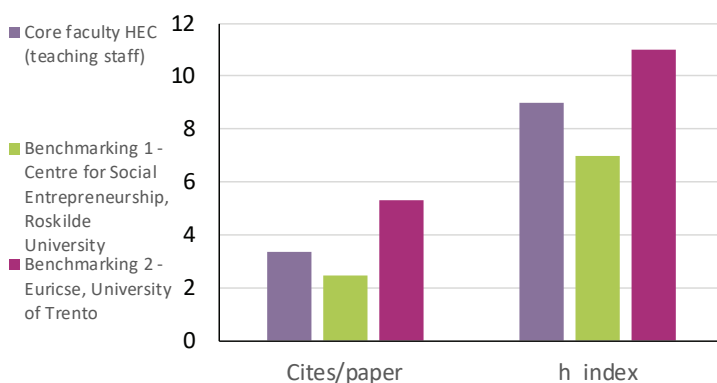

The research domain « Social Enterprise and Business Ethics » pursues three major goals:

- to develop research in the areas of Social Enterprise and Business Ethics mainly from the perspectives of economics, management and organization theory
- to feed, through its work, teaching in the areas of Social Enterprise and Business Ethics at the University of Liège and elsewhere;
- to participate in building an ecosystem that fosters the development of social enterprises and ethically-driven businesses.

It is mainly driven by the Centre for Social Economy (CES) at HEC Liège.

Cites and H-index and benchmarks

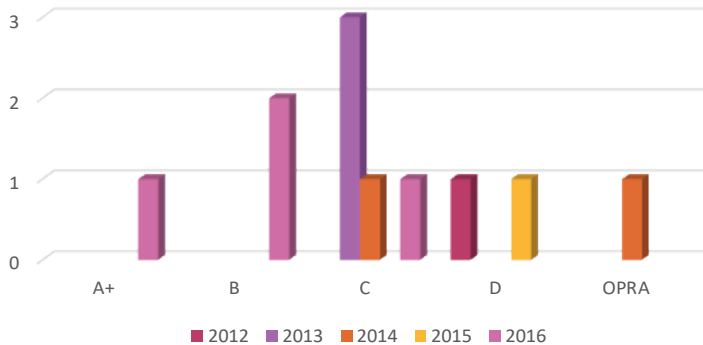

The research in “Social Enterprise and Business Ethics” benefits from an important international recognition. The scholars at the Centre for Social Economy are among the most recognized and cited in Europe in their domain (5 publications with more than 500 citations and an average h-index of 9), a recognition that is outperformed only by a small number of research centres. The international recognition has also emerged from collaborations with other international partners, notably in the context of the EMES International Research Network of which the CES is a founding member and has hosted the Coordination Unit since then. Other collaborations have been developed with universities (e.g. Oxford, Cambridge, etc.), management schools (e.g. ESSEC, HEC Paris, etc.) and international associations (e.g. ISTR, ERNOP) that develop research in the areas of Social Enterprise And Business Ethics.

The research in “Social Enterprise and Business Ethics” is published through a variety of formats: books and book chapters, reports and working papers, and articles in peer-reviewed journals. The quantity of articles varies across the years, with an overall increase in quantity and even more in quality (articles in A and B journals). Among the recent A and B publications:

Publications 2012-2016 according to HEC's academic journals guide

Dufays, F., & Huybrechts, B. (2016). Where do hybrids come from? Entrepreneurial team heterogeneity as an avenue for the emergence of hybrid organizations. International Small Business Journal, 34(6), 777-796.

Nicholls, A., & Huybrechts, B. (2016). Sustaining Inter-Organizational Relationships across Institutional Logics and Power Asymmetries: The Case of Fair Trade. Journal of Business Ethics, 135(4), 699-714.

The research is supported by a variety of funding sources, including:

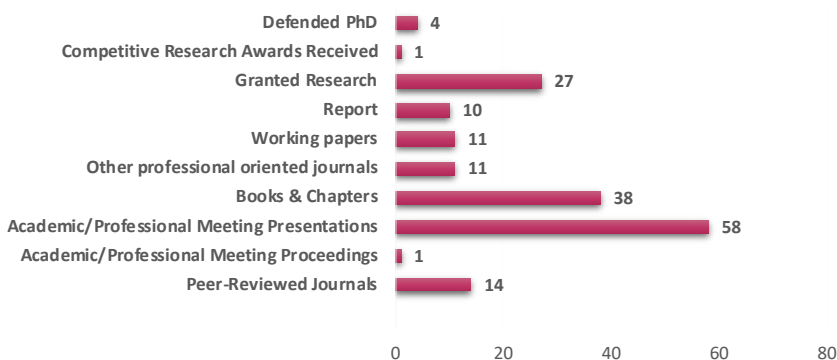

- Chairs: the Cera, SRIW-Sowecsom and Baillet Latour Chairs
- Individual grants: non-FRIA and FNRS doctoral grants, BelPD-CoFund post-doc grant
- Public grants: grants from the Walloon Region, the European Commission (Interreg, Liefelong Learning, Intelligent Energy Europe,...) and the federal state (IAP)
- Private grants : grants from diverse companies (CBC Bank, Bank of Luxembourg, ENGIE)

Granted Research Projects 2012-2016

The most important research grant over these last years has undoubtedly been the Inter-University Attraction Pole (IAP) project funded by the Belgian Science Policy (Belspo) after a very competitive selection process. This project, entitled « If not for profit, for what? And how? », is coordinated by the Centre for Social Economy and associates teams at UCL, ULB and VUB. It has been a major driver for the important increase in doctoral dissertations, research projects and publications over the last years. Within the framework of the IAP, an international project was launched to compare social enterprise ecosystems across the world. Called « International Comparative Social Enterprise Models » (ICSEM) and led by Jacques Defourny and Marthe Nyssens, the project currently associates about 250 researchers in 55 countries.

Closely in touch with the latest practices in portfolio management, fundamental equity research and financial risk management, the Finance Department of HEC Liège Management School has founded the “Center for Asset and Risk Management (CARM)”.

The current macroeconomic conditions pose a great challenge with regard to optimal public as well as private fund allocation.

The center runs an applied research program focusing on practical applications for education and the professional community. The research program is organized along four research lines:

- 1. Asset Management: Research activities on asset management focus on optimal allocation strategies under different economic context. The strategies which are examined in this program range from traditional portfolio optimization techniques under a mean-variance to advanced optimization under a higher-moment framework as well as to smart beta or alternative strategies. We evaluate the risks and performance of those strategies with a particular attention on the more dynamic trading strategies performed by hedge funds and mutual funds. Our future research agenda integrates smart beta strategies which have proved to be resilient to economic turmoil in the financial markets.
- 2. Financial Risk Management: Financial risks and their impacts on our markets are more than ever a matter of crucial interest to market participants, regulators and public authorities. Research activities on financial risk management focus on modeling and pricing firm and/or country specific market, exchange rate, liquidity and credit risks in equity and bond markets. Current work of our team concentrates on three research directions: (i) the role of market conditions in the underlying mechanisms and implications of financial risks, (ii) the analysis of the time-varying dynamics along which financial risks propagate across markets and market participants, as well as (iii) the way institutional and macroeconomic conditions alter markets’ and market participants’ resilience to risk across developed, emerging and developing markets.
- 3. Corporate finance: The program’s objective is to investigate drivers of growth in firm value. The program involves several aspect of equity research. First, it focuses on financial analysis and security valuation with its consequence on asset pricing and market anomalies in equity markets (size and book-to-market, profitability and investment policy). Second it focuses on private investments as sources of innovation and performance. We especially target the role of private investors (VC, PE) in those markets. Finally, optimal allocation strategy of private investors/ entrepreneurs is part of our research agenda.

Changing Workplace & Strategic HRM

The academic and scientific staff involved in this field develops researches on the evolutions of the workplace in a global and digitalized work. Three main axes may characterize such transformations and are developed by three research units accordingly:

- new forms of work and employment, technological innovation and organizational change (LENTIC)
- gender, diversity management and equal opportunities (EGID)
- skills development and knowledge management (Skills Management Cell)

Such evolutions pave the way to new developments in strategic HRM through organizational change processes and intrapreneurship skills, studied by the abovementioned research units.

Numerous publications and PhD theses are produced on these topics. The research activities of the peak are characterized by a permanent balance between pure academic research and action-research accompanying public and private organisations in the design and implementation of HR strategies and change projects, either in Belgium or abroad. A strong involvement may be observed with regional, national or international professional associations in the field (HR managers, diversity managers, etc.).

Within the University of Liège, strong research links have been developed with the Faculty of Social Sciences and the Faculty of Psychology (interdisciplinary ARC project, co-supervision of PhD, etc.) and could lead to further integration in the near future.

International partnerships have been established with other Universities either in Belgium (Leuven, Louvain-La-Neuve, Hasselt, Antwerp, Ghent) or abroad (Paris-Dauphine, Lille, HEC Montreal, Wharton School, Bentley, Tilburg, Aachen, Monash University, University of California in Santa Cruz, etc.). The academic and scientific staff of the peak is deeply engaged in international scientific networks (the French-speaking Association of Human Resource Management AGRH amongst others, with positions of vice-president, coordinator of working groups, etc.). Senior professors are regularly asked to take part in PhD committees outside Belgium.

Several academic and scientific members of the peak are also committed in the study of intercultural questions in a global world and take charge of cooperation activities with developing countries, namely in Africa.

The research domain “economic analysis and policy” focuses on applying different economic approaches to facilitate the decision-making process at the firm and the government level. The researchers contributing to the field, actively promote empirical and applied theoretical analysis to evaluate policy-relevant issues.

They are interested in a wide-spectrum of issues ranging from the regulation of network industries (energy, telecommunication, transport, etc.), innovation, competition policy, the impact of new technologies on regional development or the sustainability of social policies. One of their primary concern is to contribute to the policy debate via scientific research analysis, press coverage, opinion pieces or policy briefs of their research outputs.

The domain is organized around two research centers:

The Liège Competition and Innovation Institute (LCII) is a research center created jointly by economic and law faculty members. It aims to study the links between competition and innovation in our society. At the boundary of their respective discipline, researchers seek to improve industrial and competition policies.

Regional Economic Development (RED) is a research group focused on analyzing topics of interest from a regional point of view. They develop empirical and theoretical methods to shed new lights on topics with a particular focus on urban, energy and social policies.

The research domain in marketing at HEC Liège is organized around two major research streams, considered as key research priorities by both scholars and practitioners.

Customer centricity and experience management. Elaborating customer-centric strategies is crucial for companies in order to develop and sustain a competitive advantage. To do so, we must understand how to manage customer experience, and how customer behavior is changing in an increasingly complex environment. The research domain accordingly seeks to meet these challenges by examining, among others,

- how contact employees influence customer experience
- the role of co-creation in customer experience
- the effects of universal design on vulnerable customers' experience, in a healthcare context
- how to manage customer experience across channels

Digital service innovation management. More and more organizations embrace new technologies to develop new business models and remain competitive. In this context, the research domain examines consumer adoption (and rejection) of disruptive digital service innovations—especially in the field of the sharing economy and the internet of things— and aims to develop new strategies to help organizations increase the adoption rate of their innovations.

Research Seminar

SVEN TUZOVIC, Queensland University of Technology, Australia
The Rise of Self-Tracking: Investigating how consumers embrace new ways to monitor and manage their health with wearable technology (Jan. 28)

The field « Social enterprise and Business Ethics » pursues three major goals:

- to develop research in the areas of social enterprise and business ethics mainly from the perspectives of economics, management and organization theory
- to feed, through its work, teaching in the areas of social enterprise and business ethics at the University of Liège and elsewhere;
- to participate in building an ecosystem that fosters the development of social enterprises and ethically-driven businesses.

Research projects cover a wide range of topics, both at the theoretical and empirical levels, using quantitative and/or qualitative methodologies:

- conceptual work defining the notions of and related to social enterprise and business ethics
- statistics measuring the scope of social and ethically-driven enterprises and key indicators (e.g. size, employment, growth, ethical dimensions, etc.)
- social and environmental impact measurement
- ethics in business, corporate social responsibility and partnerships between social enterprises, foundations and businesses
- entrepreneurial profiles and trajectories of social and ethical entrepreneurs
- emergence and development of social innovations in new fields of activity (e.g. ethical finance, fair trade, integration of low-skilled workers, etc.) and in the context of the sustainability transition (e.g. recycling, renewable energy, short food supply chains, etc.)
- financing of social enterprises, philanthropy and social investment
- governance and HRM practices
- in social enterprises and foundations
- institutionalization, networking and public policies
- social enterprise and business ethics in developing countries

Research centres and researchers involved:

- Centre for Social Economy (CES)
- International Research Centre on the Public and Co-operative Economy (CIRIEC)
- Associated researchers at HEC

The international recognition of the CES has emerged from collaborations with other international partners, notably in the context of the EMES International Research Network of which the CES is a founding member and has hosted the Coordination Unit since then. Other collaborations have been developed with universities (e.g. Oxford, Cambridge, etc.), management schools (e.g. ESSEC, HEC Paris, etc.) and international associations (e.g. ISTR, ERNOP) that develop research in the areas of social enterprise and business ethics.

Research activities in the fields of supply chain management (SCM) and business analytics (BA) are focused on analyzing data collected from a variety of sources and decision making informed by data analysis and supported by optimization techniques, with the aim of enabling enterprises and organizations to improve their service levels and operational efficiency, in particular in the context of supply chain and logistics management.

The main areas of expertise are therefore analytical methods of uncovering business insights and predicting future situations with use of data (statistical analysis, nonparametric regression models, censored data analysis, discrete choice models, data mining, artificial intelligence, machine learning, natural language processing, pattern recognition,...), and also of recommending decisions (operations research, mathematical modelling and optimization, stochastic programming, combinatorial optimization, integer programming, exact and heuristic solution approaches, metaheuristics, functions of binary variables,...).

SCM is a major field of application of such analytical methods, and these areas are frequently associated in the so-called “industrial engineering” departments of many foreign universities. At HEC Liège, they form an essential component of our “business engineering” curricula and are closely linked due to the scientific profiles of the people in place. The research activities in these fields focus on the following application areas:

Supply chain and operations management: design and coordination of supply chains; design and coordination of intermodal transport networks; production planning and scheduling; vehicle routing in freight and passenger transport; inventory routing; vehicle loading in air and route transport; pricing and revenue management in transport; transport economics; network economics; statistical process control

Finance: portfolio optimization; stock market forecasting; operational risk management

Marketing: clustering customer complaints; question-answering systems

Research activities in the fields of SCM and BA are mostly based in the research centre QuantOM (Quantitative methods and Operations Management). QuantOM is the association of several researchers under a common label to stimulate and promote research conducted at HEC Liège (or more broadly, within the ULiège) in the fields of quantitative methods and of their applications in SCM and other areas of management and economics.

Sustainable performance is needed in a world subject to new and multiple challenges, resulting from climate changes, technological innovation, increase in social inequalities, new ways of competitiveness, needs for renewed governance and transparency.

The « Sustainable Performance – Tax, Audit & Accounting » is a strategic research field of the Research Unit HEC Research. It aims at promoting and stimulating transdisciplinary research on how governments, enterprises and other stakeholders should integrate sustainability in their management of taxes, audits and accounting.

The Research sub-unit thus gathers the Tax Institute, the Center for Research on Corporate Performance / Centre d'Etat de la Performance des Entreprises, the Entrepreneurship Department, the Accounting Department and the Smart City Institute.

The research team is leading currently research projects dealing with the following research themes and questions :

- Sustainability strategy and management: why and how should/do organizations integrate sustainability issues and their social, environmental, managerial and economic aspects in their strategy and in their management practices ?
- Sustainability control and performance management: why and how should/do organizations integrate sustainability issues (social, environmental and economic aspects) in their control, monitoring and governance systems ?
- Sustainability taxation : why and how should/do organizations integrate sustainable tax issues (transfer pricing, environmental taxation, transparency and sustainable reporting, taxation of robots) in their taxation strategies ?

Different research objects are considered by the researchers :

- Private organizations (from big firms to small companies, with a focus on industrial high-reliability organizations)
- Public organizations (regional and governmental structures, health care organizations, associations)
- Territorial ecosystems (districts, cities, regions, countries)

Methodology and sources

The HEC Liège Academic Journal Guide is an internal scientific journals classification made of the collation of three external journal rankings:

- ABS: Association of Business Schools (Last update: 2015);
- CNRS: Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (Last update: May 2016);
- ERIM: Erasmus Research Institute of Management (Last update: 2015).

ABS journals' classification

4*	Journals of Distinction. Within the business and management field including economics, there are a small number of grade 4 journals that are recognized world-wide as exemplars of excellence. Their high status is acknowledged by their inclusion in a number of well-regarded international journal quality lists. The Guide normally rates a journal 4* if they are rated in the highest category by at least three out of the five non-university based listings – Financial Times 45, Dallas List, VHB, Australian Deans' List, CNRS. In addition, journals from core social sciences disciplines that do not appear in those listings may also be rated 4* on the grounds that they are clearly of the finest quality and of undisputed relevance to business and management. In the Guide of 2015, this applies to three journals from the fields of sociology and psychology.
4	All journals rated 4, whether included in the Journal of Distinction category or not, publish the most original and best-executed research. As top journals in their field, these journals typically have high submission and low acceptance rates. Papers are heavily refereed. Top journals generally have the highest citation impact factors within their field.
3	3 rated journals publish original and well executed research papers and are highly regarded. These journals typically have good submission rates and are very selective in what they publish. Papers are heavily refereed. Highly regarded journals generally have good to excellent journal metrics relative to others in their field, although at present not all journals in this category carry a citation impact factor.
2	Journals in this category publish original research of an acceptable standard. A well regarded journal in its field, papers are fully refereed according to accepted standards and conventions. Citation impact factors are somewhat more modest in certain cases. Many excellent practitioner-oriented articles are published in 2-rated journals.
1	These journals, in general, publish research of a recognized, but more modest standard in their field. Papers are in many instances refereed relatively lightly according to accepted conventions. Few journals in this category carry a citation impact factor.

CNRS journals' classification

1	Revue influante, general.
1e	Revue influante en économie.
1eg	Revue influante en économie et gestion.
1g	Revue influante en gestion.
2	Forte sélectivité.
3	Sélectif.
4	Exigeant mais sélectivité plus faible.
NR	Nouvelle revue.

ERIM journals' classification

P-STAR	The so called P* journals (or STAR journals), is considered to contain the absolute top ones among the best journals in the field. These P* journals are widely considered as truly distinctive. All ERIM P* journals are listed in the ISI Journal Citation Reports (JCR).
P	The Primary Set (P journals) contains the best journals in the field of management. There is a list of such journals that cover the entire field of research in management, and there are lists for each of the domains represented in ERIM research programs.
PA	The second subset of the journals in the Primary Set are not (yet) listed in the ISI Journal Citation Reports (JCR) but are expected to receive such a listing in the near future. These "non-ISI journals" are labelled as "P Aspirant" (PA) in the ERIM Journals List. PA journals will be transferred to the Secondary Set in the subsequent ERIM Journal List update, provided a sufficiently high impact factor has been attained before 1/1/2021.
M-STAR	A third subset of journals in the Primary Set is the category for Top Managerial Journals (M STAR or M*). In this way ERIM clearly differentiates between true research journals and these more managerially relevant journals. This new category of the list fits the importance attached to managerial relevance as part of ERIM's focus on dual impact (both academic, societal and managerial impact).
S	Secondary set (These journals are scientific refereed journals of a recognized academic reputation that do not reach the quality levels of the Primary Set, however. These journals stand for solid, mainstream work in research of management and papers in these journals count as qualifiers for ERIM membership.)
S (3=1)	Within the secondary list, a 3=1 category is distinguished. Mainly Dutch journals belong to this group. Three or more publications in EJL (3=1) journals count for 1 EJL S publication (see also ERIM Membership Charter).

The guide relies on the following construction rules:

- If the journal is listed in at least two of the three external journal lists, the HEC Liège Academic Journal Guide will attribute the best grade according to the following conversion grid:

ABS		ERIM		CNRS		HEC Liège
4*	A	P-star	A	lg	A	A+	1
4	A	P	A	1	A	A	2
3	B	PA	A	2	B	B	3
2	C	S	B	3	C	C	4
1	C	M-Star	A	4	C	D	5
		S (3=1)	C

- If the journal is listed in a single external journal list, the HEC Liège Academic Journal Guide will downgrade its equivalent ranking (according to the conversion grid) by one note. An exception is made for the ABS academic journal guide.
- If the journal is not listed in one of the three external journal lists, it does not integrate the HEC Liège Academic Journal Guide. An exception is made for a list of 55 "Other Peer Reviewed Articles" which are not ranked but deserve a special attention.
- A+ Journals of the HEC Liège Academic Journal Guide are restricted to the scientific journals of the Financial Times 50.
